Church History: 1 Credit

This is an introductory course in the development of the church from the Resurrection of Christ to the end of the 20th century. The subject material offers an important vehicle for integrating what the student may have already studied in various world history programs. Due to the variety of tests, short assignments and essays used for evaluative purposes, it also has proven to be a good “starter” course for students who may not yet be of high school age but wish to prepare for what lies ahead. This course is organized in our new daily schedule format.

Text: Sketches From Church history $26.95

Tuition: $150.00

World History 1: 1 Credit

This course is meant to be an introduction to world history from Creation to the Reformation. Even for students who have previously done studies in ancient history it should prove to be beneficial as it will allow for further reflection, research, and application of the material. By itself it will give any student a sufficient glimpse of God’s initiative in shaping events and working out all things for His purposes and ultimately His glory. Done in conjunction with a reading of great literature of the past, it will provide a framework for better understanding of the context within which these works were written. This course is organized in our new daily schedule format.

Geography of Canada and the World: 1 Credit

The study of geography, as it is presented in this course, includes a survey of the earth and its resources, the use of these resources by humans, and the cultural features of people in the various regions and countries of the world. The student will see the inter-relatedness of the many aspects of ‘geography’; that is, how the physical, political, and economic factors of a region influence one another. The course has been re-vamped to include an extensive Canadian component that will allow the student to explore the broader features of our great country as well as its government and heritage. Much of the Canadian section will require access to the Internet. This course is organized in our new daily schedule format.

“My “moment” came as I was hunched over a Wordsmith notebook at the dining room table, brainstorming more interesting words for bed (I came up with futon). Words are fun! Exasperating, heartbreaking and inspiring, too. My writing as one of Tree of Life’s earliest students hovered somewhere between quirky and more pensive prose. That style – and the curiosity that marks the Tree’s focus on independent learning – still helps craft my work as a journalist today.”
