Welcome

Dear Friends,

Educating children is a big commitment. But, it is a commitment that parents just like you have undertaken with great success in recent years. Studies show that academically, emotionally, socially, and of course spiritually, children generally benefit from learning in a home environment. At Tree of Life we have been helping parents and students educate at home since 1994. With many years of experience, a knowledgeable staff, and a commitment to provide a high quality educational experience, you can have the confidence that a Tree of Life education will prepare your child for the future.

Education using a Classical and Christian methodology is a time honored and Christ centered way of gaining not only solid academic skills but also developing the Christian worldview needed to live a life faithful to one's Christian calling...in whatever area that might be.

You will notice that we have made significant changes to our syllabus and catalogue this year. First of all, it is in color! Second, we have once again combined our school and book service information into one document for your convenience. Third, we have accomplished the most extensive overhaul of our high school program since the introduction of our Great Ideas studies almost ten years ago. New courses have been added, several of our old courses have received a facelift complete with new daily schedules, and we are introducing a new option for Level I of our Great Ideas course this year. This will be more of an on-line experience with participating students having the opportunity to interact with their assigned tutor and other members of the class. See page 7 for more information and contact us if you have further questions. Finally, you will notice that the catalogue portion of this document has a whole new feel to it. We decided to highlight the materials that we think can help you deliver the very best education for your child. These materials are described in detail at the top of the page. Below, other programs are listed and you are encouraged to visit our web site for information on these. The bottom line is we still carry all the great products you have come to expect (and more), so feel free to contact us if you are wondering about availability and pricing.

2012 Conference Schedule

Drop by and see us at one of the following conferences across Canada

KWCHEA: March 31, 2012
AHEA: April 13 & 14, 2012
RVHEA: April 14, 2012 - by Rep.
OCHEC: April 27 & 28, 2012

In conclusion, we thought it would be fun to give you the opportunity to work for Tree of Life. We are offering you a $25 credit on your account for every NEW family that enrolls in one of our school service programs. Encourage other "Non-Tree" families to enroll with us, tell them to make sure they let us know who made the referral, and we will put a $25 credit on your account. It's just one more way we would like to say "Thank You!" for your years of support. Have a great year!

Mike and Deb Flewelling

TALK! TALK! TALK!

We want you to be talking about Tree of Life to your friends and we will pay you to do it.

If you refer a family to us and they enrol for the first time, we will give you a $25.00 credit on your account. All they have to do is tell us who sent them to us.

So tell your friends about Tree of Life and earn "Easy Money"

Tree of Life School Individualizing Service

The following FAQ's deal with our Grades 1 to 8 individualized program.

How do I enroll?

We require that parents complete a Family Profile Questionnaire for each child they wish to enroll. You can find this enrollment form on our website where it can be completed and submitted electronically. When we receive your information, we will contact you by phone to request further information (if needed) or to simply schedule a consultation to set up your program.

What happens during the consultation?

The telephone interview can be from 30 to 60 minutes depending on the number of children and the complexity of questions asked. Essentially the interview will use the questionnaire and other information gathered during the time on the phone to recommend a tentative course of study, explanation of the materials, and general suggestions for implementation.

What happens after the consultation?

You will be sent a pending invoice in order to verify the materials you will need to purchase to implement the program. We ask that you get back to us within one week to finalize your invoice. Your personalized binder, which includes specific guidelines, a one week sample schedule, reading lists, planning pages, and general helps will then be compiled, along with any materials you need and mailed to you as soon as possible. (Please allow 4 to 6 weeks) Material costs will vary, but it is best to plan for $300.00 - $600.00 per child each year.

What is the difference between the monitored and unmonitored programs?

Essentially you get exactly the same service outlined in the previous two sections with the exception that families enrolled in our monitored program will complete an evaluation and send in requested samples of work three times per year. These packages will be reviewed by our staff and returned along with an anecdotal report of your child's progress as well as suggested answers to questions you may have raised on your evaluation form.

Can I have my child monitored for one subject only?

Yes, some families don't require help in setting up a program of study for their child, but wish to have some feedback on progress in a special area, usually written work. The procedure for enrollment is the same as previously outlined. The cost is $150 and this provides for up to ten written submissions per school year.

What's the big idea behind "What's the Big Idea?"

This program, implemented in 2010, is designed to be used by 11 to 13 year olds (Grades 7 and 8). Its purpose is to prepare students for our Great Books studies, or our regular high school program, as well as to hone skills appropriate to the Logic stage. For more information on this program turn to page 6 of this document.

How much does your Grades 1 to 8 service cost?

	Unmonitored	Monitored
One Child	$200	$300
Two Children	$350	$550
Family Rate	$500	$825
10 Assignment Option		$150.00
What's The Big Idea?		$175.00

How do I make payment?

Payment can be made by cheque, money order, or credit card. (Visa or Mastercard). We require that all materials be paid prior to shipping but tuition costs can be spread over three payments. Make sure you ask to have a payment plan set up for your tuition.

In The Works

Lord willing, we hope to introduce a program for Grades 4-6 sometime in the next year or two tentatively called "Small Steps to Big Ideas." It's right now in the incubator, so to speak! We would love to hear from you if you have any ideas of things you would like to see included. The plan is to structure it similarly to our "What's the Big Idea?" material. (See Page 6)

Tree of Life School for High School

The following FAQ's deal with our high school correspondence school.

How do I enroll for high school courses?

While many of our students enter our high school program directly from our own early grades curriculum, many more come to Tree of Life for the first time in high school. To properly place them and to understand more fully their strengths and weaknesses, we ask that students send us a completed Enrollment Form (available on-line), a Math placement test (if required), a recent writing sample, and any other documentation that may be helpful in recommending courses. Final selection of courses is made following a telephone conference before the beginning of each school year, or you may order your high school courses on-line by going to our storefront at www.treeoflifeathome.com and follow the links.

Do you offer a diploma and/or other documentation?

Yes. Students receive written documentation for every course completed through our school and, upon successful completion of the required credits, are granted a Tree of Life diploma. To qualify for a diploma it is recommended that students complete 28 courses with a minimum from each of the following categories: four courses from the English group; three from each of the Math, History, Science and Language, Bible/Worldview and Logic/Rhetoric groups; two from the Electives group; plus four of any other courses. This arrangement allows for a broad based educational experience that remains true to the classical approach. (See Diploma Requirements section for more details.)

NOTE: There will be a $10 administration fee for each transcript mailed to a post-secondary institution. Three or more $25.00 flat fee.

What have your past students done upon graduation?

Because our enrollees extend nation wide, we have students who have explored almost every possible avenue after their secondary home education experience. They have entered university, college, apprenticeship programs, the workplace, or continued their education at home using other distance education courses. The vast majority of these students say that their Tree of Life diploma was certainly beneficial in helping them gain entrance to a post-secondary institution, but we still recommend that parents and students keep a well developed portfolio that documents anything that can be considered part of the educational process. This should include extra-curricular activities, work experience, volunteer service, certificates, letters of recommendation, standardised test scores, etc. It is also a good idea to open lines of communication with potential schools or work places two years prior to graduation in order to ascertain the best way for you to meet their requirements for entry without sacrificing your home school experience.

Can I enroll in individual courses?

Yes, many of our students are actually part-time enrollees. They find that some of our courses compliment their present course load very well. Others seek feedback in particular areas from a third party source to make sure students are on the right track.

Do you give credit for course work or other experiences done apart from Tree of Life School?

Yes, credits completed from other institutions may be transferable and, quite often, other activities in which students are involved can be documented and counted for credit. Please provide us with evidence of course completion and a basic outline as to the nature of the content as well as the signature of the supervising educator. See website for the proper format for documentation. $10.00/course or $25 for 3 or more.

How is the monitoring done?

Courses are evaluated in a number of ways. Normally students will write tests under the supervision of a parent or other adult and send these to us along with any other written work. This can be done via the mail service but might also be accomplished through e-mail (the preferred method). This work is then evaluated by our staff and returned complete with numerical marks and comments where applicable.

What about your Great Ideas studies?

In 2003 we launched our Study of the Great Ideas through the Great Books. This is an intensive look at the ideas of God, Man, Truth, Lies, Good, Evil, Beauty, and Ethics offered over four years. Of special note here is that each level of the Great Ideas counts toward three Tree of Life credits (English, Bible, History). We suggest that students still take a Math, Science, Logic, and Language course each year for a comprehensive educational experience. For more information see the Great Ideas section.

How do I make payment?

Payment can be made by cheque, money order, or credit card. (Visa and Mastercard). We require that all materials be paid prior to shipping but tuition costs can be spread over three payments. Make sure you ask to have a payment plan.

Is Tree of Life Government-Accredited Institution?

No. Tree of Life has never sought accreditation from any authority other than you, the parent. Having said that, Tree of Life has been recognized by many post-secondary institutions across Canada that appreciate the high academic standards we set and the third party evaluation service we offer.

“What’s The Big Idea?”

“What’s the Big Idea” for students who are normally in grade 7 and 8 (ages 11 to 13) has a specific purpose—to develop essential academic skills in young adolescents. Reading, taking notes, outlining, summarizing, logic, writing formats, grammar, editing, memorization and recitation, Bible study,...all these skills are specifically taught and practiced in this comprehensive, two level program. You simply add your own Math, Science, Second Language, Art, Music, etc.

The student manual is organized in a series of specific instructions over a 120 day period. Why 120 days? We feel that in a course like this the student will stand a better chance at success if he is scheduled for a four day school week with the fifth day to be used for “catch up” or supplementary activities. It also provides extra time for reading, memory work, composition, or just simple “think time”. Specific writing assignments are designated for evaluation and are spaced in such a way as to allow valuable feedback. This will both encourage the student and help him to improve. The other great aspect of this course is that the writing assignments are frequently taken from work the student is doing in other areas such as literature and history. Also in the student manual are note-taking pages of English Composition, History, and Bible. These pages will help the student develop good organizational skills as well as the ability to get the most out his reading. In addition, a supplementary reading list, poems and space to plan daily work in other subjects make this a valuable learning and organizational tool.

Average number of hours: 2+ hours daily with readings outside of “school time”.

Evaluation: Level 1: Written assignments, notebooks, and various recitations and readings

Level 2: Written assignments, poetry study, Bible passage summaries and various recitations and readings.

Tuition: $175.00/ Year (Books are extra - see lists below)

“David is sure enjoying working through 2nd year of What’s the Big Idea?. I love the way the program is laid out, the independence that it helps creat, and the way you have incorporated the English writing skills learned in Format Writing with writing book reports. David is blossoming with this program and taking total ownership of his schoolwork. The last month or so is the first time since I have started home schooling (19+ years) that I actually have nothing to do except for a few minutes spent going over some of his work and doing logic together. And writing the book of Romans must be getting to him. This morning he sighed and said, “I love the book of Romans”.

Thanks for making our home schooling experience so stress free but rich and meaningful at the same time.”

A Study of the Great Ideas Through the Great Books

Our Great Ideas Through Great Books studies are all multi-credit courses, given that they are designed to be an honors level study. Based on the idea that students ought to be given the opportunity to participate in the "Great Conversation" by reading Great Books, this course will allow much reading, plenty of reflection on ideas encountered, and instruction and practice in the art of written expression. The material is integrated so that students will be exposed to all the essential skills found in top notch secondary English and Worldview/Philosophy courses. If the student is a good reader, expresses himself well in written work, and is mature and inquisitive, this is a good choice for a Classical and Christian educational experience.

Average number of hours: 2 to 3 hours daily.

Evaluation: Level 1: (God and Man) 2 credits: fifteen assignments, 3 essays Tuition: $300.00

Level 2: (Truth and Lies) 2 credits: fifteen assignments, 3 essays Tuition: $300.00

Level 3: (Good and Evil) 3 credits: eighteen assignments, three essays Tuition: $325.00

Level 4: (Beauty and Ethics) 3 credits: twenty assignments and four essays. Tuition: $325.00

*NEW THIS YEAR: In addition to the regular God & Man course, Tree of Life is offering an online version this year that involves regular correspondence among fellow students and a tutor. While the book list is the same, students will proceed through the readings and assignments together, participating in online written discussions using semi-private web logs ("blogs"). The course still involves assignments and essays evaluated in the standard way, but the special feature is the opportunity for sharing and discussing the Great Ideas within an online class atmosphere. Students should be prepared to keep on schedule with the readings and to participate regularly with their postings and responses.

Evaluation: A total of 6 assignments, 5 essays and 8 blog postings.

Tuition: $375.00 (Class limit of 10 students)

High School English Courses

English 1 (Introduction to English Literature and Composition): 1 Credit

This course will focus on what might be called personal writing skills. Note-taking, outlines, summaries, letters (both friendly and business), and “tons” of suggestions to help you to finely hone style in your writing help make the material for this year exceedingly practical. It is assumed that by high school students have received adequate instruction in basic grammar and writing mechanics, so they will not see much here about writing simple sentences or parts of speech. The emphasis is on taking writing to a level that will prepare them for further schooling or to write easily when the occasion arises in the work world. Students will also study two novels, Animal Farm and The Yearling, as a way to stretch reading and thinking skills, and also to offer opportunities to practice some of what they are learning in Wordsmith Craftsman. Units on poetry and short stories are also included to introduce students to the fundamentals of these genres and guide them in exploration of different forms and figures of speech. This course is organized in our new daily schedule format.

Texts: Animal Farm $9.99, The Yearling $8.50
Wordsmith Craftsman $17.95

Tuition: $175.00

English 2: Composition and World Literature to 1600 : 1 Credit

According to Janie B. Cheaney, essays are a written expression of an author’s thoughts, conclusions, or findings on any given subject. This year you will focus on the writing of descriptive, narrative, expository and persuasive essays, and try your hand at a critical book review. As you work on your own essays with the help of Wordsmith Craftsman, you will also be introduced to literary terms and various styles of writing, from poetry to short stories to speeches. In the second half of the course, you will be exposed to some examples of classic literature from ancient times to the sixteenth century and asked to choose essay topics based on these works. The aim of this course is to increase your understanding and appreciation of literature, while teaching you some techniques that you can apply to your own writing, in whatever form that takes. This course is organized in our new daily schedule format.

Texts: Wordsmith Craftsman $17.95, Out of the Silent Planet $14.95
Julius Caesar $19.95

Tuition: $175.00

North American Literature: 1 Credit

Through a broad range of stories, poetry, and novels, this course encourages students to explore the universality of human experience, while also considering how different genres and literary themes reflect North American culture through history. The first half of the course focuses on American literature, including two novels, To Kill a Mockingbird and My Antonia. In the second half we move north of the 49th parallel to explore Canadian literature, including the novels Never Cry Wolf and Forbidden City. As students will come to understand, the study of American and Canadian literature is simply another means to a better understanding of these two countries, their character, and how Christians can seek to live godly lives in North American society. This course is organized in our new daily schedule format.

Texts: To Kill a Mockingbird $10.95, My Antonia $8.95
Never Cry Wolf $12.95, Forbidden City $9.95

Tuition: $175.00

World Literature Since 1600: 1 Credit

This course aims to open up to you some of the great literature of continental Europe and non-European countries, written in the past five hundred years. You will be challenged to think about the culture, history, and societies of non-English speaking peoples, as portrayed in their own writings, as well as to consider how English speakers have thought and written about other parts of the world. As you work through the course you will also find that some philosophical and literary movements have swept across national boundaries and language barriers. Over the course of the year, you will learn about the Enlightenment, Romanticism, Realism, and Modernism; Russian, Asian, African, and South American Literature; the Jewish Diaspora and British colonialism. The scope of the course is broad; thus the stories, poems, novels, and plays have been carefully selected to represent the various cultures and movements of world literature since 1600. This course is organized in our new daily schedule format.

Texts: A Doll’s House $3.95, King Solomon’s Mines $13.95

The Alchemist $16.95, Cry, the Beloved Country $18.95

One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich $14.95

Tuition: $175.00

British Literature: 1 Credit

This course will help you to trace the history of literature in the land we now call the United Kingdom, from the time of the Anglo-Saxons until the twentieth century. Along the way you will see how literature is influenced by the culture that produces it. Great literature also leaps outside the bounds of time and place and affects those who live in other parts of the world. Because of Britain’s place as a major power in western civilization, its literature has probably more than any other, shaped people’s thinking. As you work your way through the days of the Anglo-Saxons, the Middle Ages, the Elizabethan Era, the Age of the Puritans, the Restoration and Eighteenth Century, the Romantic Age, the Victorian Era, and the Twentieth Century, take the time to study and sincerely appreciate some of the greatest literature ever written. This course is organized in our new daily schedule format.

Texts: Sir Gawain and the Green Knight, Hamlet $19.95

Much Ado About Nothing $19.95, Robinson Crusoe $12.99

Ivanhoe $13.50, The Importance of Being Earnest $15.95

The Remains of the Day $16.95

Tuition: $175.00

Advanced English Composition: 1 Credit (English or Rhetoric)

The Writer’s Workshop takes an approach to teaching writing that is new only because it is so old. Today, rhetoric and composition typically proceed by ignoring what was done for 2500 years in Western education. Gregory Roper, on the other hand, helps students learn to write in the way the great writers of the past learned: by carefully imitating masters of the craft, including Cicero, Thomas Aquinas, Charles Dickens, Sojourner Truth, James Joyce, and Ernest Hemingway. By living in their workshops and imitating these and other masters, apprentice writers – like apprentice musicians, painters, and blacksmiths of the past – will rapidly improve the complexity of their art and discover their own native voices. This course is different from any other offered by Tree of Life. Students will be assigned a tutor and enrolled in a small peer group (maximum of 8 students) where writing will be shared (via e-mail), critiqued, and celebrated. This is an ideal opportunity for students in their last two years of secondary school to develop advanced composition techniques.

Saxon Calculus Solutions Manual $43.95

Tuition: $125.00

Elementary Algebra: 2 Credits

This text covers essentially what Saxon Algebra I and II cover but in one text. It does not follow the Saxon incremental approach but presents material in a more traditional unit based way. Students will study topics such as fundamental operations, functions and graphs, integers, rational numbers, equations, exponents, polynomials, factoring, fractions, square root, quadratic equations, real numbers, inequalities, number sequences, and more. This course can be done over two years for the average math student or one year for those who are more advanced.

Mathematics A Human Endeavour: 1 Credit

This course is designed for students who have had some trouble with math but are academically inclined. In this text Jacobs puts some skin on many of the abstract concepts that form the core of most high school math courses. Jacob's winsome writing style and his ability to illustrate tough ideas makes this course a great choice for "math shy" students.

Consumer Math 11

Deductions from your pay cheque; calculating interest in your savings account; financing a new car; taking a trip. These are very practical math skills that we use frequently. This course is meant to introduce the student to aspects of mathematics for the consumer. The text is divided into 10 units, each designed to help the student to master the skills which are essential to living in our North American culture. Topics include: Working and Earning, Deductions and Expenses, Paying Taxes, Making Purchases, Buying Decisions, Banking Transactions and Saving Money, Investing Money, Taking a Trip, Borrowing Money, and Buying a Car.

High School History Courses

Church History: 1 Credit

This is an introductory course in the development of the church from the Resurrection of Christ to the end of the 20th century. The subject material offers an important vehicle for integrating what the student may have already studied in various world history programs. Due to the variety of tests, short assignments and essays used for evaluative purposes, it also has proven to be a good “starter” course for students who may not yet be of high school age but wish to prepare for what lies ahead. This course is organized in our new daily schedule format.

Text: Sketches From Church history $26.95

Tuition: $150.00

World History 1: 1 Credit

This course is meant to be an introduction to world history from Creation to the Reformation. Even for students who have previously done studies in ancient history it should prove to be beneficial as it will allow for further reflection, research, and application of the material. By itself it will give any student a sufficient glimpse of God’s initiative in shaping events and working out all things for His purposes and ultimately His glory. Done in conjunction with a reading of great literature of the past, it will provide a framework for better understanding of the context within which these works were written. This course is organized in our new daily schedule format.

Text: Streams of Civilization Vol. I, $23.95

Tuition: $150.00

World History 2: 1 Credit

This course is meant to be an introduction to world history from the Reformation to Modern Times. Even for students who have previously done studies in this area it should prove to be beneficial as it will allow for further reflection, research, and application of the material. By itself it will give any student a sufficient glimpse of God’s initiative in shaping events and working out all things for His purposes and, ultimately, His glory. Done in conjunction with a reading of great literature of the past, it will provide a framework for better understanding of the context within which these works were written. This course is organized in our new daily schedule format.

Geography of Canada and the World: 1 Credit

The study of geography, as it is presented in this course, includes a survey of the earth and its resources, the use of these resources by humans, and the cultural features of people in the various regions and countries of the world. The student will see the inter-relatedness of the many aspects of ‘geography’; that is, how the physical, political, and economic factors of a region influence one another. The course has been re-vamped to include an extensive Canadian component that will allow the student to explore the broader features of our great country as well as its government and heritage. Much of the Canadian section will require access to the Internet. This course is organized in our new daily schedule format.

“My “moment” came as I was hunched over a Wordsmith notebook at the dining room table, brainstorming more interesting words for bed (I came up with futon). Words are fun! Exasperating, heartbreaking and inspiring, too. My writing as one of Tree of Life’s earliest students hovered somewhere between quirky and more pensive prose. That style – and the curiosity that marks the Tree’s focus on independent learning – still helps craft my work as a journalist today.”

High School Logic/Rhetoric Courses

Logic 1 (Informal Logic): 1 Credit

The aim of this course is equip young minds to think critically in the commercial, political, and social world in which we live. The authors of the textbook that we have chosen explain and illustrate twenty-eight informal fallacies which are frequently encountered in the media and conversation. The emphasis on practical application will help students to remember and apply these lessons long after the course is completed. The reward will be an improved ability to evaluate arguments and reason well. This course is organized in our new daily lesson schedule format.

Text: Art of Argument $22.95

Art of Argument Teacher Ed. $26.95

Tuition: $125.00

Logic 2 (Formal Logic): 1 Credit

This course will introduce students to the interesting realm of formal, deductive logic. Coming after a study of informal logic, which concerns the claims being made in the content of an argument, a study of formal logic analyzes the structure of the argument. Logic as a subject is perfect for training young minds to think clearly, and is best taught by showing the relevance of logic to the students' own concerns and interests. The text we've chosen for this course is designed to emphasize the practical and real-world application of soundly structured, deductive logic. Using methods such as Socratic dialogue, readings from Plato and Sherlock Holmes, diagrams, memory devices, and personal application, it teaches in ways that provide lasting benefit to the student. This course is organized in our new daily lesson schedule format.

Text: Discovery of Deduction $27.95

Discovery of Deduction Teacher Ed. $31.95

Tuition: $125.00

Persuasive Writing and Speech: 1 Credit

In the art of persuasion, the classical trivium comes into its own, as grammar, logic and rhetoric harmonize in the achievement of a winning argument. In this course, students will be able to put to use all the logic and writing skills learned up to now plus some new ideas that will enrich their writing and speaking. A dozen different techniques of classical rhetoric will be explained and practiced. Students will be asked to read and recognize the techniques being used by other authors, practice them in short paragraph assignments, and eventually put the tools to use in one essay and two short speeches. We are confident that the benefit of this course will be seen not only in persuasive discourse but in all other fields of writing and speaking. This course is organized in our new daily lesson schedule format.

Text: The Rulebook for Arguments $14.95

Tuition: $125.00

Advanced English Composition: 1 Credit (English or Rhetoric)

The Writer's Workshop takes an approach to teaching writing that is new only because it is so old. Today, rhetoric and composition typically proceed by ignoring what was done for 2500 years in Western education. Gregory Roper, on the other hand, helps students learn to write in the way the great writers of the past learned: by carefully imitating masters of the craft, including Cicero, Thomas Aquinas, Charles Dickens, Sojourner Truth, James Joyce, and Ernest Hemingway. By living in their workshops and imitating these and other masters, apprentice writers – like apprentice musicians, painters, and blacksmiths of the past – will rapidly improve the complexity of their art and discover their own native voices.

This course is different from any other offered by Tree of Life. Students will be assigned a tutor and enrolled in a small peer group (maximum of 8 students) where writing will be shared (via e-mail), critiqued, and celebrated. This is an ideal opportunity for students in their last two years of secondary school to develop advanced composition techniques.

Text: The Writer's Workshop $18.95

Tuition: $200.00

"Tree of Life provides the academic & emotional support we've needed to successfully navigate through the high school years. As our children mature (didn't we just launch into this adventure yesterday?!) they pursue their studies with increasing independence. It has been wonderful to have Tree of Life's third party interaction & evaluation. All this on top of uncompromising course content founded on a Christian worldview. A tangible blessing indeed."

High School Second Language Courses

Latin 1: 1 Credit

The course starts from foundations, which makes it workable for the student new to Latin, as well as the one who has studied it previously. The text engages students with interesting subjects and a continuous storyline about the experiences of a typical Roman family living in A.D. 80. Supplementary readings will present history and cultural topics. Lively on-line games and quizzes are available to make learning Latin even more enjoyable. Students will be equipped to take the National Latin Exam in the spring if they wish.

This course is organized in our new daily lesson schedule format.

French 1: 1 Credit

This course is for students who have had some background in the study of French Language. As it is a textbook approach and for best results, the student should be familiar with pronunciation, basic vocabulary, grammar, and reading/translation work. Given this, the course will offer review in verb, noun, adjective and adverb structures, word studies, and French civilization.

Various Modern Languages: 1 Credit per level

Many home educators desire to have their children exposed to a more oral approach to second language instruction. They also may want to have them learn one or more modern languages (ex. French, Spanish, German, Dutch). To facilitate this desire we recommend use of one of the excellent computer based language programs on the market today. Both Rosetta Stone and Tell Me More offer solid instruction in conversational aspects of a language allowing the student to learn from a native speaker and to come away with a high school level knowledge of the vocabulary and grammatical constructs of the language of their choice. The best part about this approach is that these programs are "self monitoring". Just register the student on the program and you will be able to generate a report of student progress at any time. Submit this report and we will grant appropriate second language credit. As with any study of a second language, this approach works best when two or more students are working through the material together.

Average Number of Hours: 15 to 30 minutes daily

Evaluation: Final report generated from computer program.

Texts: Rosetta Stone or Tell Me More Computer Programs

Tuition: $10.00

High School Elective Courses

Art Appreciation: 1 Credit

This course seeks to lead the student into a discovery of art, artists, and the necessary skills to view and understand this form of expression. Art can and does take many forms but we will concern ourselves chiefly, but not exclusively, with the study of painting. The student will do a fair bit of research and in the end compile a personalized art history binder. Periods studied will be from early times to modern day. Many schools of art and artists will be explored.

Text: Annotated Mona Lisa $34.95

Art History Materials, Compiled by Tree of Life $76.00

Evaluation: A total of twelve assignments ranging from essays, to the art binder project will be used to evaluate student progress.

Tuition: $125.00

Music Appreciation: 1 Credit

This course will introduce the student to the foundations of music, the orchestra and study of the Medieval, Renaissance and Baroque eras. Students will be challenged with many listening opportunities as well, leaving them better able to appreciate beautiful music.

Texts: The Gift of Music $19.95 (optional)

Beautiful Music Secondary Materials,
$129.95

(Includes the Beautiful Music Guidebook and Anthology by Sarah Moerman, Baroque Festival, Baroque Favourites, Gregorian Chants, Instruments of the Orchestra set, Renaissance Masterpieces CDs)

Tuition: $125.00

Advanced Reading Skills: 1 Credit

We added this course a long time ago given the premise that reading, unlike writing, is seldom taught beyond the elementary level. Because there are several levels beyond this, we felt it was time to provide students with the opportunity to really learn how to read and be given the skills to read from a variety of sources. Many students have told us that this has proven to be one of the most valuable courses they have ever taken and prepared them for the deluge of reading assignments received in university. Since good reading is where the author and reader meet and the reader is able to understand what the author is teaching, students will develop valuable skills in reading at the elementary, inspectional, analytical and syntopical level, learn how to "mark up" a book effectively, and how to engage the author in "conversation".

Text: How to Read a Book $18.95

Tuition: $125.00

Career Study and Work Co-op: 1 Credit

This course is designed and recommended for students in their last two years of secondary education. It is most helpful in allowing the student to explore a variety of career options that may be open to them as well as gain practical experience in one or more of these options. This course is to be designed in conjunction with our staff so it is best to "touch base" with us before proceeding with the details of course implementation.

Teaching The Trivium

by Harvey and Laurie Bluedorn

Harvey and Laurie Bluedorn speak from experience on questions concerning the compatibility of the Classical approach and the Christian, how to give your children the tools they need to teach themselves, and using a variety of resources within the Classical framework. They also lay down a spiritual and philosophical foundation and a practical program for Christian Homeschooling in the Classical style. This book will challenge the Christian homeschooler to diligence, excellence and faithfulness in the education of their children.

Training Hearts, Teaching Minds
by Starr Meade

There is a real need for the church to recapture much of what has been all but lost in the last century. Fathers, especially, need to take the initiative to lead their families in worship and understanding of the Bible, the great historic confessions, and the catechisms. This is a great "family worship" resource organized in six day units, each focusing on a catechism question from the Westminster Shorter Catechism.

Naxos Classic Fiction on CD

We aren't promoting this product in place of reading the classics, but sometimes it's nice to listen to great literature that is read well by professionals. You might want to use them as a learning tool: to promote listening skills, to model good oral reading technique, or to encourage a reluctant reader of the classics. However, our guess is that you might want to listen to them for pure enjoyment. They're also great for taking along in the car. Some titles are abridged. This is not a complete listing of available titles.

The 100 Cupboards

by N. D. Wilson

Twelve-year-old Henry York wakes up one night to find bits of plaster in his hair. Two knobs have broken through the wall above his bed and one of them is slowly turning . . . Henry scrapes the plaster off the wall and discovers cupboards of all different sizes and shapes. Through one he can hear the sound of falling rain. Through another he sees a glowing room—with a man pacing back and forth! Henry soon understands that these are not just cupboards, but portals to other worlds.

The Drawing Textbook

by Bruce McIntyre

This little book consists of 37 lessons (220 illustrations) in drawing using the seven laws of perspective: surface, size, surface lines, overlapping, shading, density, and foreshortening. Each of these laws is a separate and unique way to make one object or part of an object appear to be closer to you or farther from you than another. These seven laws are demonstrated and explained in this self-instructional "How to Draw" book.

DRAW TODAY

I had read various advertisements about the "Draw Today" program and was skeptical. The claims seemed too good to be true. "Before" and "after" type promotional literature always makes me wonder. In my mind, no art program could do what this one claimed to be able to do. Well, after months of hesitation, curiosity got the best of me and I decided to get "Draw Today" and give it a try. After working carefully through the levels of this program I was amazed at what I produced. — a realistic portrait! (the one on the right of this box) It really worked! Using a grid for guidance the picture comes alive as you erase away the charcoal you have applied to the paper. Everything you need is included in the kit. The video leads you through the program step by step, giving advice as you go along. Recommended for ages 12 and up.

17:18 Journaling Series

Each book is organized so that you can write out your very own copy of Scripture. You will be writing the Bible text only on the right hand page of the book. This should make for easier writing and also allows ample space on the left page to write your own notes and comments. From time to time a question or word will be lightly printed on the left page; these questions are to aid in further study, but should not interfere with your own notes and comments.

The Universe Next Door

James W. Sire

When The Universe Next Door was first introduced more than twenty years ago, it set the standard for a clear, readable introduction to worldviews. In concise, easily understood prose, James. W. Sire explains the basics of theism, deism, naturalism, nihilism, existentialism, Eastern monism and the new consciousness. Revised to include Marxism, secular humanism and New Age philosophy this book continues to be a classic worldview text.

The Young Historians Introduction to Worldviews

Brimwood Press seeks to build historical literacy in 5th to 8th graders through teaching three fundamentals or critical concepts; teaching children the language historians use for time, developing an awareness and understanding of worldviews and learning the flow of history. This product uses hands-on activities to simplify and teach abstract concept of worldview.

Conversations from the Garden
Brimwood Press

This is a tool for building Christian thinkers. It prompts conversation with questions from the first three chapters of the Bible. Share these conversations within your family or in other group settings. They will be especially valuable for young people - those who are still shaping their worldview.

A Call To Resist The Secular Assault On Mind Morals And Meaning

by Nancy Pearcey

Is secularism a positive force in the modern world? Has the globalization of a worldview that discounts religion provided society more freedom or, rather, enslavement? In Saving Leonardo, award-winning author Nancy Pearcey makes a lucid argument against the movement, suggesting the high priests of cultural secularism have actually fragmented society and compromised the important concepts of liberty and dignity.

Seven Men Who Rule the World From the Grave

by Dave Breese

Though their bodies lie cold and dormant, the grave cannot contain the influence these seven men have had on today's world. They generated philosophies that have been ardently grasped by masses of people but are erroneous and antisciptural. Who are these men and how have they influenced our thinking?
